件名: Greetings from Tokyo

Dear Mr. Armstrong,

As an author/journalist who in 2004 did a lengthy piece (for Japan's influential monthly magazine "Bungei Shunju") on Claire Lee Chennault and his abotive plans to bomb Japanese cities like Osaka from bases in China, I read about your book "Pre-Emptive Attach" with keen interest.

My research took me to the National Archives and the Hoover Institute (in Stanford) and I became thoroughly convinced that there definitely was a plan by the U.S. government to bomb Japan before December 7, 1941. (At the National Archives, I did obtain a copy of the letter to FDR from the Acting Secretary of War and the Secretary of Navy dated July 18, 1941, on which FDR left his signature on July 23, obviously approving Col. Chennault's plan to bomb Japan preemptively.)

Could you tell me if your book is being -- or will be -- translated into Japanese? I believe most strongly that your book should be read by many Japanese. Getting a translation out in Japan is a must, I believe, if you are considering attracting funds for a movie based on your book.

I'd appreciate hearing from you at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Ko Shioya
